

Mercury Stardust

LGBTQIA+ | DIY | COMPASSION

Mercury Stardust, known online as the Trans Handy Ma'am, is a performer, educator, content creator, maintenance professional, bestselling author and award-winning activist. Mercury offers unique expertise beyond her expansive platform: 17 years in home maintenance, 15 years in stage performance and public speaking, and a lifetime of being queer and trans. An emphatic and empathetic storyteller, Mercury draws on all facets of her lived experience to share ideas that engage any audience.

"The hero's quest takes many forms in literature and folklore. Often, the at first reluctant hero goes on an adventure, is victorious in a crisis, and returns home transformed, with gifts to bestow on mankind. It's hard to conceive of a more apt description of Stardust or of her work."

Gail Piche, The Guardian 2023

"Mercury will really go above and beyond for your event. We love how she dressed up for our event, even though that was not required. Mercury was so ready to improv and help our event however we needed at a moment's notice. We would highly recommend hiring Mercury to anyone."
